

The VT Center for Peace Studies and Violence Prevention

would like to invite you to a public seminar
by Keith Watenpaugh:

“Learning from Genocide”

Thursday, October 23, 2008

7:00 - 8:00 PM

CHEMP 130

(Chemistry/Physics Building
West Campus Drive)

Keith David Watenpaugh is a historian and Associate Professor of Modern Islam, Human Rights & Peace who teaches in the Religious Studies program at UC Davis. Trained at UCLA, he has lived and conducted research in Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Turkey, and Iraq. He is a current Fellow with the United States Institute of Peace.

E-mail: kwatenpaugh@ucdavis.edu

Web site: religions.ucdavis.edu/people/faculty/watenpaugh

Virginia Tech Center for Peace Studies and Violence Prevention
<http://www.cpsvp.vt.edu/>